4. PARTNERSHIP WITH THE SAN JOAQUIN RIVER PARKWAY AND CONSERVATION TRUST, INC.

Shawn Riggins introduced Sharon Weaver, Executive Director of the San Joaquin River Parkway & Conservation Trust, Inc., a 501(c)(3) non-profit public benefit corporation established in 1988. Ms. Weaver provided an overview of the organization's mission, which is dedicated to developing parks and trails along the San Joaquin River. The Trust has a long history of collaboration with LCC on various projects aimed at enhancing the area for both residents and wildlife. The recent emphasis of this partnership has been on the Ball Ranch Project, which is scheduled to open to the public daily in the near future. Preparation work is currently in progress to ensure the property is ready for public access. Ms. Weaver noted that this site was originally designated for a residential subdivision and a golf course development proposed at Ball Ranch in the mid-1980s. It was this golf course development, located on the river bottom land, which started the parkway effort.

Weaver then introduced Jake Salimbene, Operations Director, who then provided an overview of the preparations underway for the opening of Ball Ranch to the public. Salimbene stated that a three-week project has been planned to enhance entrance in preparation for the upcoming improvements. Crews moved a large amount of wood chips, cleared out trash along Friant Road, and removed waste vegetation and excess fuel loads, making the entrance area safe and inviting.

Salimbene also highlighted the work that will occur under the Nature-Based Solutions partnership. Crews will assist with the removal of invasive species along the river, perform plant maintenance at the 23-acre property located at Fresno River West, and manage vegetation and fuel loads at Sycamore Island.

Riggins then introduced LCC corpsmembers who worked on the Ball Ranch project, Rayvontay Medley, Eddie Tapia, and Jordan Douanseng. They shared their experiences working on this project, detailing the work they completed, which included removing branches and tree trunks, clearing dry grass with weedwhackers, and spreading wood chips. They also shared their encounters with wildlife.

5. PROGRAM UPDATES

A. Work Training Projects

A detailed list of work training projects was distributed at the meeting with the Advisory Board agenda packet. Several projects were highlighted. Shawn Riggins provided a brief update on LCC's activities/events since the last Advisory Board meeting, as follows:

- Riggins stated that all the local corps statewide have been included in the Nature-Based Solutions legislation, a project focused on providing conservation-related work. Riggins is currently writing the grant application, in which the San Joaquin River Parkway & Conservation Trust will be included as a partner.
- Riggins has announced the promotion of Leah Struck and Tracy Pierce to the positions of Program Managers. Additionally, Riggins stated that preparations for the "Safe Night Out" event are in progress, with the first meeting scheduled for next week. This event is being coordinated in partnership with several community organizations, the City of Fresno Police Department, and the West Fresno Family Resource Center.
- Riggins mentioned that Proposition 4 will be included in this year's ballot. If approved, Prop 4 bond would authorize $10 billion in bonds for projects to reduce climate risks and requires that at least 40% of funds must be allocated to initiatives that directly benefit low-income communities and those most vulnerable to the effects of climate change. Should the proposition pass, all local corps across the state will receive approximately $2 million dollars each to undertake nature-based projects.
- In addition, Riggins also mentioned that LCC has received funding from CalFire to support corpsmember training and certifications. The Forestry Worker Training Program is designed to prepare participants for entry-level positions within wildland fire crews, forestry crews, fire prevention teams, emergency response crews, and vegetation fuels management teams. The training is scheduled to begin in late September.
- Veronica Moreno, Lead TSA, and Alan Alvarez, YouthBuild Program Assistant, provided an overview of their recent participation in a conference held in Philadelphia. The focus of the conference was on the education of corpsmembers, the challenges they face, and effective strategies for engaging with them and offering support.

- Anette Gamit, YCSC Teacher, provided an overview of the educational components offered at YCSC. The curriculum now includes themes of Love and Care, Leadership, Collaboration, Support, Healing, and Accountability. Ms. Gamit then introduced Jacob Echeverria and Mercedes Rojas, YCSC students, who shared that the 2024-2025 school year begun on August 12, 2024. Currently, there are sixty-six students enrolled in the classroom-based program, seventeen students in the independent study program, with an additional twenty students in the enrollment process, all of which contribute to meeting the ADA goals. The students also mentioned that they are preparing for upcoming the “Safe Nigh Out” Halloween event and are looking forward to holding student council elections.
- Caroline Taito, YouthBuild Program Manager, provided an update on the YouthBuild AmeriCorps Education Awards Program. She stated that the enrollment process for the 2023-2024 program year has concluded, with thirty reduced half-time slots awarded. Each member must complete 675 service hours to earn a total of $2,626, which can be used for post-secondary education expenses or to repay student loans. Additionally, a request has been made for twelve more slots, allowing twelve students the opportunity to be enrolled at once instead of having to wait for the next grant funding cycle. The added requested slots will provide extra funding to support staff salaries and cover other expenses, including personal protective equipment for members and vehicle maintenance. The 2024-2025 grant year has been allocated funding for thirty reduced half-time slots, in addition to two part-time and two full-time slots. The contract is currently pending signatures. Taito also stated that two corps members will represent LCC at the AmeriCorps Conference of Young Leaders in October in Washington, DC.
- Taito provided an update on the YouthBuild/DOL construction program. The enrollment process for the first cohort has been successfully completed, with a total of thirty-three (33) corpsmembers. Preparations are currently underway to begin enrollment for the second cohort, which will also consist of thirty-three (33) corpsmembers. Additionally, the crew is scheduled to go to the housing site shortly. Field staff have been actively teaching construction math to the corpsmembers, and the corpsmembers have been regularly volunteering at the Poverello House. Three corpsmembers have successfully completed the Sterile Processing Technician training. They are currently fulfilling the requirements set by Valley Children’s and will soon be placed on a 400-hour paid internship.
- Tracy Pierce, Recycling Program Manager, provided an update on the recycling program. Pierce stated that recycling crews will be working with the Fresno Metropolitan Flood Control District in October to install inlet markers at the District’s drainage inlets throughout the City of Fresno. Additionally, crews will be working at the Madera District Fair and Fresno State football games and continue to service the Save Mart Center during events and concerts.
- Riggins stated that LCC is currently renting office space to organizations serving the West Fresno area.
- Leah Struck, FGP Program Manager, provided an update on the Foster Grandparent Program. Struck indicated that the program is currently recruiting volunteers. Additionally, she reported that the Senior Tech Program, funded by the Department of Social Services, has been highly successful, with over three hundred seniors receiving iPads. The program also covered internet service costs and offered a five-week training class. Staff attended the 2024 AmeriCorps Seniors National Convening in Baltimore, ME.
